1.1.3 Example

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing this letter to complain about the quality of your product—an electronic dictionary I bought in your online shop last week. Today, I find the dictionary does not operate properly. For some reasons, the battery can work for only two days after last charging. What is worse, the pronouncing button of it does not function. Last but not least, the screen will shut down unexpectedly and randomly.

As the machine is under warranty, I would like to exchange it for another one or get a refund. I am looking forward to your reply at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely yours,
Ming Li

1.2 Suggestion Letter

1.2.3 Example

Dear President,

I am writing this letter to give you some suggestion in how to improve our student's physical condition after my observation of my classmates' poor performance in the annual "Mountain Climbing Festival" held by the local authority.

First of all, the morning exercise is expected to be introduced and promoted as routine regulation so as to help us keep a regular schedule every day. Secondly, more fitness equipment should be installed in the public area of the apartments. Consequently, we can do the building more conveniently and make the best use of our precious time.

I hope you will find these suggestions helpful and practical. Sincerely yours,
Li Ming

1.3 Apology Letter

1.3.1 Common Beginning Sentence Pattern

- My true gratitude is beyond the word's description.
- Please accept my gratitude as always.

1.7.3 Example

Dear Kevin,

I am writing this letter to thank you for the guidance you have offered me during the past weeks. I was a total stranger when arriving in this city, even not knowing the way to the downtown area. As you know, this is the first time for me to come up to this big city.

I bought a guidance book, but there were still difficulties in going around the city. The streets and shops puzzled me so much that I would rather stay indoors. It is your valuable guidance that has enabled me to go about the city without losing myself. I thank you very much for your kind help. Yesterday I went downtown alone to buy some stationery and other stuff.

Lessons will begin in a few days. I will come over to see you some day next week and tell you everything that has happened to me.

Yours sincerely,
Li Ming

2 ESSAY WRITING

2.1 The First Paragraph

In this paragraph, we focus on image description.

2.1.1 Example

- As is shown above, in the sea floats a fishing-boat, catching fishes, with a number of sea creatures swimming in the ocean, on the contrary in 1995, there was only one fish, with many fishing-boats crowding in the sea.
- As is shown in the cartoon, in the darkness happily stands a candle, spreading brightness around itself.
- As is vividly shown in the photo, in the sunshine stands a pretty American girl, (who is) in Chinese traditional clothes, wearing necklace and its like, with a sweet smile on her face.
- As is shown above, In the black house stands a delicate flower, growing vigorously, with the shelter protecting it from the brush of the storm. When remove out of the protection, the flower cannot stand and quickly dies, with it's leaves falling in the wind.

2.1.2 Pattern

As is shown above, In the...stands/floats/..., growing/wearing..., with...

2.1.3 Common Beginning Sentence Pattern

- As is shown in the picture above...
- The pictures above vividly describe + noun.
- The drawing above does demonstrate a certain thought-provoking social phenomnon.

2.1.4 Common Ending Sentence Pattern

- Certain informative implication is revealed in the picture above.
- The implication is not only informative, but instructive as well.
- The picture, at the first glimpse, seems to be simple, but only a penetrating sight can pierce through its superficial meaning.
- This issue is becoming a matter of concern for more and more people, especially for...

2.2 The Second Paragraph

In this paragraph, we put forward argument and prove it.

2.2.1 Pattern

1. Put Forward Argument:

The picture demonstrate a common fact that the new technology has changed our ordinary way of life, but many smart devices have adversely affected our interpersonal relationship — we are too dependent on the new digital devices to maintain normal communication between people.

2. Emphasize Argument:

In other words, we ignore the importance of communication, especially the face-to-face one, suggesting possibility of threatening the normal relationship among us.

3. Prove Argument:

According to a survey conducted by the related research institute recently, the hours spent on the using of phones per-person each day have reached as much as 5.4 hours, which means these new devices the lives of a modern soul from day to night.

4. Example:

As is reported, an old father even overturns the dining table when his children pay a visit to him, annoyed by his children who are indulging in their mobile phones and ignoring the communication with father and mother, even when their old mother has elaborated a great meal for them.

5. Summary:

The symptoms of this kind of phenomenon are not difficult to find.

2.3 The Third Paragraph

In this paragraph, we pose the solutions.

2.3.1 Common Mode

The general public is supposed to enhance their awareness that ocean resources are essential for the environment. In this issue, researchers, scholars and experts are expected to work out up-to-date solutions to something. In view of the complexity of such an issue, we must treat it socially, economically and culturally. In a sense, it is not why something exists in today's what we should do to cope with it.

2.3.2 Common Sentence Pattern

- To solve this burning problems, it is imperative for people to combine efforts to...to set up...to...by doing so, we can...
- All these measure will help us in solving these important problems and ...
- It is high time we paid due attention to this adverse trend/problem...
- Accordingly, it is imperative for us to take some measures to...We bear in mind that...Everyone should have the ability of...Only in this way can we...and only in this way can...
- From what has been discussed above, we may safely draw a conclusion that...
- My suggestions to deal with the problem are as follows. To begin with, it is urgent to...Secondly...Finally...

3 ESSAY RECITE

3.1 Negative/Environmental/

As is shown above, on the lake floats a boat, on which one couple of tourist are throwing waste into the lake, which has been in mess and full of various wastes including lunch boxes, fish bones and its like. The primary purpose of the pictures above is that due attention should paid to the urgent problem that people's inappropriate behaviors lead to the severe destruction of environment.

The picture is telling us that the environmental problem is not only harmful but also detrimental. Behind the scene presented above, there lurks a host of problem of some higher level. Smog, acid rain, global warming, and the thinness of ozone layers possibly change of wild species. Industrial sewage dumped into rivers or lakes pollutes water; this may cause the death of fishes and other aquatic species. People living by the river will probably develop strange diseases. Were there no environmental protection, never would we taste the real happiness of life.

To solve this burning problem, it is imperative for people to combines efforts to raise safety standards of all industrial facilities, to set up international cooperated laboratory, to monitor the state of environment and set up an international center for emergency environment assistance. All these measures will help us in solving these important problems and prevent us from dangerous illnesses and disease. We'd better bear the following sentence in mind "Don't blow it — good planets are hard to find."

3.2 Positive/Teamwork

As is vividly depicted in the picture, two disabled men are running fast through teamwork although each of them has only one leg. Obviously, it is teamwork that makes it possible for them to go anywhere they want to.

Simple as it is, what the picture conveys to us is though-provoking. With the development of economy and society, competition is becoming increasingly fierce. It is impossible for anyone to finish work all by himself. Hence, people in mounting numbers put great emphasis on teamwork. In fact, it has been universally acknowledged that the ability of teamwork is the most essential qualification that anyone who wants to achieve success should possess.

Accordingly, it is imperative for us to take some measures to enhance the sense of teamwork in our society. We should bear in mind that teamwork is of great significance to both our society and ourselves. Every one should have the ability of teamwork. Only in this way can we achieve success and only in this can our society become harmonious to live in.

3.3 Other Essay

3.3.1 Optimistic/Pessimism/Choose/Attitude

As is shown above, in the middle of the picture stand two persons, looking at the dropped/broken wine/milk bottle, showing different reactions, one sighing that “there is nothing left”, and the other being grateful that “there is something left”. Simple as the picture is, a certain informative information is revealed in it.

The picture demonstrates two strikingly different attitudes, pessimism and optimism, when facing the same thing and tells us that the enthusiasm and the optimism are of paramount importance when it comes to the personal growth, especially in this ever rapid changing modern society. Due attention to this quality is attached by individuals and even the whole society. Those with optimistic attitude to the life can relieve not only pressure, but also anxiety and such problems as depression and solitude. Favorable attitude to the life can broaden our mind, enrich our experience and enhance our vigor then create an enthusiastic environment for our society. People with the spirit of optimism can not only accumulate wealth, but will also establish their career, fit into society, and even attain social status. Were there no positive mental attitude, never would we taste the real happiness of the success.

To sum up, one's view and attitude on his life determines his future. Different life attitude may bring about entirely different results. Many psychologically fragile and pessimistic young people around us too easily become discouraged and give up when confronting with difficulties, which makes it hard to believe those youngsters with such mind state can face the challenge and become pillars of the society.

3.3.2 Family/Affection/Tradition

As is shown above, three decades ago, in the first picture walked a mother and a daughter, with the young mother holding her lovely daughter's tiny hand. By contrast, in the other picture, now, the little girl has grown up and support her aged mom by taking her arm, with the gratifying smile on the mother's face. The scene is described by the caption: mutual accompanying and supporting.

It is unsurprising that readers may get a warm sensation or feel touched, because the dependable support and unfailing love of family as illustrated by the pictures are endearing and invaluable to every one of us. At the same time, there is no doubt that these pictures remind us that the filial piety, an invaluable Chinese tradition and powerful cohesive force that unites us together, is the steel that forges the supporting structure of our society. If this invaluable asset is ever neglected in any possible manner. Our society will not be able to grow steadily, although some traditions have become the dead symbols or abstract concepts to be found in dusted books.

To make our society a better place, positive examples of this kind shall be made known and followed by people in every profession and in every corner. Our ardent love for life will further guarantee the prosperity of this life-affirming force. It is no exaggeration to claim that the world will become a big loving family if good-willing deeds like this become a common practice that happens daily.

3.3.3 Learning/Enterprising/Young/Mentality

In the illuminating picture, on the stairs runs an old man, seeming energetic and vigorous, with a young man, dripping sweat, being fatigued after climbing some stairs. Simple as the picture is, the meaning behind it is virtually thought-provoking. Just as Franklin Roosevelt once said, man is not old as long as he is seeking something.

The picture indicates that youth is not a time of life but a state of mind. A person who is enthusiastic about his life can perpetually retain supreme power. A typical example is Ji Xianlin, a famous scholar in China. He dedicated his whole life to the study of liberal arts and even in his later years, he was still open-minded about new findings and contributed many sagacious ideas. In contrast, if a person has no passion about life, he, even at a young age, may appear lifeless. Without pursuit, people are likely to surrender to obstacles in their lives. For example, many psychologically fragile young people around us too easily become discouraged and give up when confronted with difficulties. It is hard to believe those young people with old minds can meet challenges and become pillars of the society.

As argued above, the two distinct life attitudes bring about entirely different results. Therefore, all of us, both young and old, should keep our enthusiasm to live meaningfully.

3.3.4 Food/Society/Safety

As is vividly depicted in the picture, on the playground run two relay race athletes, with a famous chemical component, which is well-known due to the milk powder scandal, being handed from the one, a cow to the other, an egg. There has been a heated discussion on the newspaper about this picture. The author's real purpose is not the fact itself, but to lead us to find what hides behind the iceberg.

The artist who creates this picture intends to draw our attention to the serious social issue of food safety which has sparked nationwide discussions after such well-publicized scandals as the poisonous milk powder. And this discussion has been further fueled by the contaminated eggs. Some famous milk powder manufacturers of our country put melamine in their milk products, causing the damage of organs even the death of hundblacks of children around the nation. So, it's OK(understandable) that people are alert when hearing about the melamine contamination of the eggs.

The milk powder scandal, however, is only the tip of an iceberg with regard to poor quality food in the whole food manufacturing industry. In order to reverse the situation and restore people's confidence and rust in the government, it is imperative that legislative measures(should)be taken to severely punish those who dare to venture consumers' health for their profits. In addition, strict food quality inspection protocols should be established to prevent sub-standards food products from reaching the customers. In this way, hopefully, we may start eating manufactublack food without health damaging effects afterwards.
